Global and Korean Air Cargo Trends

■ Air cargo recovery stalls in March but space remains tight

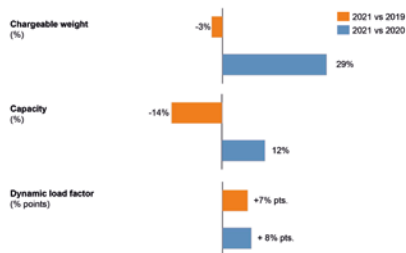

The recovery in air cargo demand appears to have stalled in March, according to the latest statistics from CLIVE Data Services. Figures from the data provider show that volumes in March declined by 3% compared with March 2019 (pre-Covid), while in February demand was down 1% on two years earlier.

The early effects of the pandemic can be seen when comparing March's demand figures with last year, where they are up by 29%. Airline capacity for the month was down by 14% compared with 2019 levels, although it was up 12% on a year ago.

The current state of the air cargo industry relative to 2019 and 2020

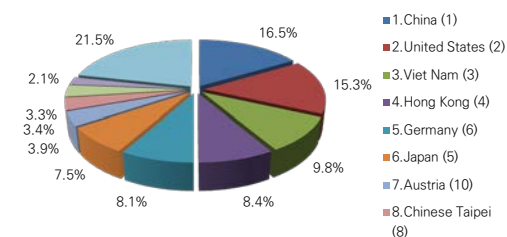

March 2021 global air cargo volumes, capacity and load factor developments (4 full weeks of Mar 2021 versus the 4 full weeks of March 2020 and 2019)

As a result, March's dynamic load – taking into account weight and volume – stood at 73%, which is seven percentage points up on 2019 and eight percentage points up on 2020. [Data : Aircargo News]

■ Korea's CASS export air cargo volume ratio in FEB

According to CASS, in Feb, the air export volume by country was the highest in China, followed by the US, Vietnam, and Hong Kong in that order, and the total traffic volume of the Top 10 countries accounted for 78.5% of the total. [Data : CASS]
